

WISDOM TREE PRESENTS

TRAUMA HEALING

WITH MARGRET HOFMANN (EAGLE WIND)

AUGUST 16TH-18TH 2019

Trauma Healing – ‘Your ability to heal’ with Eagle Wind Adopted medicine woman of the Susquehannock tribe initiated by Chief Dancing Thunder.

This seminar is especially for healers and therapists In this shamanic technique you learn to free your patients from their inner trauma, without the need for them to re-live the experience.

It is not even necessary for them to remember the past traumatic situation as we do not work with the mind. Healing happens in a state of “de-animation”, a state of deep relaxation. As the mind is quiet, there is no resistance.

Trauma is a holographic imprint in the body.

For the healing, we use specific light frequencies, like the earth or the universal energy. The energy of the body returns to the body and is being restored. You will learn this technique by working with a partner, so you can experience the healing effects yourself what can best be described as total freedom and inner peace. Shamanic perception and trauma rituals are many thousands of years old. The rituals of all people of the northern hemisphere resemble each other very much and these rituals are the heritage of our ancestors from the Ice Age.

Through aligning your perception and awareness with your conscious thought, you see and hear with your spiritual senses.

Margret Hofmann / Eagle Wind is a healer (Heilpraktiker) and Somatic Experiencing Practitioner. As an experienced healer and group leader she has a great intuition for the moment.

Chief Dancing Thunder, her long-standing teacher, gave her the name “Eagle Wind” and she brings together the diverse original knowledge and wisdom of the ancestors of the northern hemisphere.
